N. CANTOR CAUSES ARREST OF THREE

Neighborhood Feud Comes to Climax on Thanksgiving Day In Which Rival Boarding House Keepers Are Involved.

WhileSonoma Valley residents were busy giving thanks last Thursday for turkey and other blessings a neighborhood feud broke out in the vicinity of Verano and ended up by Nathan Cantor swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Tommy Farrell, Henry Sykes, and J. Trahan whom he charged with assault.

Cantor says the trio attacked him and tore his clothes. Young Farrell and his companions say Cantor's dog bit them and that when they went to the resort to "get" the dog the fight started.

Sykes who is a cook at Farrell's and J. Trahan, proprietor of Jack's grill at Boyes, have retained attorney Sprague who will defend them at the hearing Tuesday before Judge Small. Cantor's witnesses include B. Schapiro, the Blooms, Jennie Boseck and one other while Farrels also have five witnesses including Mrs. Farrel's daughter.

The parties to the controversy are rival boarding house keepers between Boyes Springs and Verano.

EASTERN STAR INSTALLATION

Impressive Ceremonial Marks Meeting ofValley of the Moon Chapter Wednesday.

The new officers of Valley of the Moon Chapter were duly installed Wednesday night by Mrs. Erna Burmester, lately appointed District Deputy of this district and also the outgoing Worthy Matron of the lodge. A number of invited guests besides the members witnessed the impressive ceremonial at which Mrs. Laura Whitmore was made new Worthy Matron of the Chapter.

The hall was beautifully decorated in tall feathery date palm leaves, intermingled with evergreens and flags. The colors of the Star were also used effectively in streamers and at the various stations. The most beautiful music was rendered by Mr. Rachman of Petaluma and his talented accompanist, while two vocal numbers by Henry Weber Jr. were also greatly enjoyed. The installing officer was handsomely gowned in black net and sapphire blue satin and conducted the initiation in a most efficient and pleasing manner.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Worthy Patron Landgrebe presented Mrs. Burmester with the customary jewel, and Wm. Clewe, on behalf of the Eastern Star, presented her with a handsome leather traveling bag. The gracious matron was overcome with surprise and joy at the latter gift but voiced her thanks in a neat speech. Mr. Landgrebe was also presented with a jewel

HERO OF WAR COMING HOME

Irving Shepard of 'Suicide Squadron' Is Feted In New York and Will Soon Be Back In Glen Ellen.

Irving Shepard, nephew of the late Jack London, will soon rejoin his mother at the London ranch after two years and seven months in the navy during which time he has distinguished himself by heroic service in the Suicide Squadron, or Mine Sweeps of Uncle Sam.

Irving was just out of High School when he joined the Navy at the outbreak of the war. Since he went into the service, he has made four over seas trips and been down to Panama.

He made one trip to Scotland on a ship carrying mines and helped plant them at the beginning of the war. Recently he has been over the same waters on the U. S. S. Falcon, helping to sweep these same mines. This heroic kind of work took him also to England, Ireland, France, Italy, Portugal and Turkey. His ship was disabled twice, once so badly that men had to be kept at the pumps night and day to keep the vessel from sinking as there was a hole stove in the hull. Young Shepard was 10 days without dry clothes in this storm and as a result was three months in a hospital. After his recovery, he again went with the mine sweepers.

To the Mine forces operating in the North Sea, Secretary Daniels of the Navy paid this high compliment;

"It is with the greatest of pleasure that the Secretary of the Navy congratulates the Officers and men of the North Sea Mine Detachment on having so creditably completed that stupendous task of clearing the North Sea of the mines planted by our Navy during the war. This most arduous and dangerous work, one of the greatest and most hazardous tasks undertaken by the Navy and which has been carried on with cheerfulness and integrity, will go down in the annals of the Naval History as one of the Navys greatest achievements. Every loyal citizen of the United States and every Officer and man of the Navy must look with pride upon these men who have once again fulfilled the glorious traditions of the service which they represent.

Josephus Daniels.

Mrs. Eliza Shepard is rejoicing at the news that her son will be home on a 30 day furlough the coming week. His detachment has been much feted since arriving in New York, a big reception and banquet at the Astor Hotel being one of the events in which he participated.

DOROTHY GLAISTER A FAIR BRIDE

Pretty Santa Barbara Girl Weds Young Navy Man of New York.

Miss Dorothy Glaister, pretty young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Middleton Glaister of Santa Barbara, and niece of Mrs. Ralph Murphy and Mrs. Will Helberg of this valley was married in Santa Barbara on the 20th of November to William Elwood Robertson of New York city.

The fair bride was a two year student nurse at the Cottage Hospital in the Southern city and had made a proud record in her chosen vocation which she decided to give up when the little god, Cupid interceded for the young navy man who wanted her for his bride. The lucky groom was connected with the Quartermasters department of the U. S. S. Minneapolis.

A quiet ceremony united the happy young couple after which they left for San Francisco to make their home. The bride was beconingly gowned in a traveling suit of rich blue material and carried with her the good wishes of many friends, and a number of handsome gifts received as wedding presents. Sonoma friends will be pleased to hear the news of these wedding bells from historic Santa Barbara.

AID GIVEN TO FIRE SUFFERERS

Red Cross and Citizens Help Steck and Other Families Who Had Thrilling Experience and Loss Last Week.

The families who were hardest hit by the recent fire which swept Loveall and Wood valleys have been given generous aid by the townspeople and by the social service department of the Red Cross.

As soon as the plight of some of the settlers was reported on the morning after the fire, Mayor Dal Poggetto made a tour of the burned area and inquired into the needs of victims of the conflagration. He found Mr. and Mrs. Steck and little son, Henry, in great distress and also James Arnold and wife. Steck and his family were immediately brought to town and given every comfort at the Union Hotel. Arnold and wife were domiciled at Marioni's Swiss Hotel where they were well cared for.

The Stecks had a thrilling experience. Mr. Steck who had been fighting the fire on neighboring places finally saw danger looming up for his own family and little place, so he took his horse and wagon and started back in haste to get his wife and child and the belongings he hoped to save. Before he reached his home, the fire was leaping over the hillsides all about him and the tall burning trees and lurid glare of the windswept flames so terrified his horse, that the animal ran away. Steck leaped to safety and finally caught the horse but only after the wagon was completely wrecked. By the time he reached his family, the fire had already begun the destruction of their home and outbuildings and his wife, clad only in overalls, was forced to flee with her little boy without being able to save anything. Their escape by way of the the road being cut off by the flames, they had to go through heavy brush and over much rough country before reaching Buena Vista at nidnight. All their livestock and savings of five years went up in smoke.

Mrs. L. H. Green and Miss Burchard of the Red Cross provided clothing and other help for the destitute families and the Steck family is now living at the W. E. Kiefer place in Wood Valley which Mr. Kiefer generously placed at their disposal. A subscription list was started this week to provide ready money to buy implements and other necessities for the victims and there has been a ready response to the call for aid. About $70 was reported yesterday.

Reformers Now After Gambling and Tobacco

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE is to back tobacco off the map; Lady Nicotine is no lady. She's a jade, a trollop, a wench, aye a Vamp—that the word—"a rag"—yes some cigarettes smell just like that. "A bone"—yes she bones you like any bad habit. Until you cough up, money, and other things besides. "A hank of hair"—some tobacco looks just like it, even if they do toast it. Lady Nicotine, nay, nay, she's a vixen that need fixen'. Because cigar stores tolerate gambling, cigar stores must go. Another crusade for which much money will be paid is to keep reformers busy. If you doubt the coming onslaught, read the following from Franklin Hitchborn, cleanser of Augean stables, and designer of modern Herculean tasks:

"At the last session of the Legislature, a law providing the machinery to stop gambling by abatement proceedings was defeated. One of the principal reasons for its defeat was the active opposition of cigar store interests. An informed observer remarked of the cigar man's attitude: "If the cigar store crowd were wise, they'd be up here supporting that bill."

The observer's position was based upon the part the saloon had played in bringing about prohibition. "The liquor men" he said, "have the saloon to blame for prohibition. Years ago it became evident that the public was against the saloon. The saloon, instead of cleaning up, became worse. The whole liquor traffic was considered in terms of the saloon. The result is national prohibition."

"There is much discussion of the prohibition of tobacco. In my judgment, the public is not keen about tobacco prohibition one way or the other. But the public's opposition to gambling is very much like its opposition to the saloon. If the tobacco trade permits itself to become the defender of gambling, gambling will do for the tobacco trade what the saloon has done for the liquor traffic. The most drastic anti-gambling law that can be drawn is none too drastic for the tobacco trade to support. Upon strict enforcement of such anti-gambling laws the tobacco trade's future may depend."

WHO IS MORE WORTHY of high prices for their products than the farmer and poultryman who never "crab" about long hours, but toil early and late to feed the world?

"NO PARTY LINES EXIST" says that astute politician, Emmet Olmsted. Well, we know everybody is hanging up the Democratic party line over this way, so that is encouraging.

CONTRARY TO THE AMERICAN tendency the English are putting all the kick possible in new drinks, probably with an eye to getting a high batting average before reform gets in its work.

THE CAREER OF Dr. David Barrows, just elected president of U. C., will be watched with interest from the fact that he is a Californian of great promise and an already splendid record in less exhalted position.

ANARCHISTS WHO THREATEN to send bombs for Xmas presents should get tar and plenty of feathers in return. If the senders are not known, the feathers will serve for any of the Bolshevists, as "birds of a feather flock together". "Treat 'em rough" and all alike.

THE MOST SERIOUS paper shortage confronts newspapers of the country, particularly the smaller publications who are facing the possibility of having to pay the most exorbitant prices if perchance they can get paper at all. The amount of paper being used by the great metropolitan dailies with their countless editions and extras, far exceed the amount being manufactured. Every inch of space in a country paper counts now.

CONGRESSMAN CLARENCE F. LEA, for whom the First District of California has been a pocket borough for some years, is not to be permitted to walk off with it another time without a contest. All that is necessary to shut the Democrat out is to get the Republicans together, for the district is normally Republican" —Chronicle

Rather underestimate Clarence Lea's popularity, brother de Young, also the getting of the Republican party together. The split with the old stand patters is not so easily healed when there are Republicans in the district like J. E. Olmsted. If Lea wants the office again he can be elected on his fine manly record. He's the one Democrat who could turn the trick. Should Lea withdraw, a Republican Congressman next term is a certainty.

"SEE AMERICA FIRST" has been a popular and sensible slogan, but one would hardly believe the necessity of seeing your own county first if it were not for the "bulls" some of the natives make in regard to their very own surroundings. See Sonoma first, is our advice to the Santa Rosa editors who stated and reiterated that Buena Vista Castle, menaced by recent fires, was the old home of General Vallejo. The historic knowledge of the scribes just 22 miles away from our historic Sonoma is woefully inaccurate. As a matter of fact, and we thought common knowledge, Buena Vista Castle is the former mansion of the late Kate Johnson, wealthy cat fancier. It is now the property of a wealthy retired business man of San Francisco. The old Vallejo home is called "Lachryma Montis" and is situated in the city limits of Sonoma, just ten minutes walk from the Plaza. Guess we'll have to have a Discovery Day down this way and invite the disseminators of news hither.

TINY LIFE CALLED BACK TO CREATOR

Freinds and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. von Hacht, (nee Dorothy Chase) of Vallejo, were sorry to hear the sad news of the death of the little day old baby girl which came into the waiting household last Saturday only to be called back to the Creator just twenty-four hours afterwards. The baby weighed 10 pounds and was a normal child but it is thought a heart weakness cut short the brief span of its little life.

Mr. and Mrs. von Hacht have the sympathy of many friends in their loss. It was their first and only child and great was their joy in anticipating the arrival of the little stranger after ten years. The babe was to have been christened Gloria.

The funeral took place here Monday afternoon, interment being in Mountain Cemetery.

Miss Inez Reed has returnel home after a two weeks visit to the city.

Hamil Wagnon has gone into the dairy business which occupies his time during the hours when he is not training El Verano's school children in good Americanism.

FARMERS ARE JUBILANT OVER THE RAIN

Farmers and stockmen are jubilant over the rain which followed the terrific windstorm of last week with a precipitation of .75 of an inch and a second rainfall of .90 Tuesday

Plowing and seeding are going on all over the valley. Much acreage is being planted to Early Bart Wheat which proved so successful last season. Fifteen sacks to the acre was the average crop and the wheat is of unusually fine quality and very clean

Gundlach-Bundschu and Company got 13 cents per pound for their dried wine grapes which was an experiment with them this year. They state that they could not dry commercially in sufficient quantities to care for their crop without the expenditure of about $25,000, or five more units for their dryer.

The dried grapes are shipped to non prohibition territory and an inferior wine made from them.

A prominent and handsome widower of town is said to be contemplating matrimony shortly and the lady of his choice is coming from overseas.

AUCTION SALE BECAUSE OF BAD LUCK TO HORSEMAN

Jack Grimes, the well known Petaluma horseman, was in town this week badly crippled up from a recent accident and he announced that he would have to sell off most of his stock at auction in Petaluma to-day Grimes was injured during the heavy windstorm last Wednesday when he was thrown off a wagon and under a 30 ton load of hay where he lay for three hours before help arrived. During all this time he managed to hang on to the reins of his horses thus preventing them from dragging him to death. His cries finally attracted a school boy who summoned help and Grimes was released.

One of his ankles was broken and several of his toes. Internal injuries were also feared. He was taken to the O'Brien hospital for treatment. The same day the unfortunate man met with his accident, a $200 mare belonging to him broke out of her corral and was ran down by an automobile. The horse had to be shot. A few days later another horse which he had sold for $100 and was waiting for the buyer to come after was kicked by another horse in the corral and had to be killed.

The auction to-day promises to be well attended by Sonoma valley stock men.

Much valuable winter pasture on the O. W. Gericke ranch where A. Maffei has his stock was swept by the recent fire.

Roy Lynch, formerly resident manager of the telephone company but now employed in electrical work at Mare Island, was in town last week looking for a suitable small ranch to rent. He contemplates commuting between here and Vallejo if he can find a place to his liking.

SCHOOLS AND CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CLASH IN VALLEJO

Vallejo is becoming involved in a bitter fight over quarantine and treatment for diptheria. Evelyn Benson, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Benson, is dead after the parents, Christian Scientists, refused to allow her to be given toxin treatment, and the health officer and district attorney are consulting over the procedure to bring against the parents a charge of murder.

Grove L. Dennett has applied to the Sonoma county courts for a writ of mandate to compel Vallejo school authorities to permit his daughter, Chrystal, to attend school. The girl was refused school privilege when her parents would not allow examination for diptheria to be made.

Dennett is also a Christian Scientist, it is said, and the suit he has brought is regarded as a test action to determine whether Christian Science children must undergo physical examination.

FIRE DAMAGES LAWLER RANCH

The recent fire on the boundary line of Sonoma and Marin counties, north of Sonoma, destroyed over 200 acres of pasturage and fencing on the Lawler ranch, owned by Jack Lawler, and it is believed that the loss will greatly exceed $500.

Mr. Lawler motored to the ranch Sunday and he states that the damage done by the fire is very great and that it will take many thousands of dollars to replace the buildings and fences destroyed on the different ranches.—Petaluma Argus.

Hayne Thomson and family who came to California recently from Missouri and have been stopping at the Emparan place and visiting Dr. Thomson and family left this week for Redding where they purchased a stock ranch.

A. J. Aubrey, who is holding a responsible position with the Bank of Italy in San Francisco has been up on a holiday visit to his mother, Mrs. Tom Monahan.

Sandy Cereghino of Petaluma was here Monday buying hogs and stopped off to see his brother, Tony, at the Maffei Market.

MORE REAL ESTATE CHANGES HANDS

An important realty transaction was consummatted this week when F. W. Dobbel and wife purchased the handsome E. T. Duhring residence on Napa St. which they are to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Duhring will reside in San Francisco apartments during the winter months and when in Sonoma will occupy the old Duhring homestead which has been occupied by Mrs. Ryland.

The Dobbels who recently sold their poultry ranch to San Francisco parties, looked at several artistic and commodious homes on Broadway and elsewhere before deciding on their purchase. The Duhring house is a two story structure on the colonial style of architecture. The purchase price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $7000.

Contrary to current reports, Mr. Dobbel has not sold the Bosse place, although he was offered a handsome advance on the price he paid for it some months ago when he bid it in at the probate court sale in Santa Rosa. A San Francisco landscape gardner is said to have taken a decided fancy to the Bosse property and offered many inducements to Mr. Dobbel to part with his purchase.

Sonoma realty is certainly looking up and there are continued inquiries for property in this valley.

TEACHERS GIVEN SICK PAY

School teachers should be allowed pay during sickness if the total time out does not exceed ten days during a term, according to a ruling received at Santa Rosa from Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Garside of Oakdand were guests of Petaluma friends for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Garside was formerly Miss Mary Burke of this place.

Horace and Will Appleton, with their families returned Sunday to their homes in Stockton and Berkeley after a Thanksgiving visit with thir mother here.

Dr. and Mrs. Parramore and Mrs. Johnson, the doctor's sister, were here from Mill Valley Saturday. Mrs Parramore has been caring for friends in the Valley who were badly injured in an auto accident.

SECOND PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING

The second Parent-Teachers' meeting of Sonoma Valley Union High School was held at the high school building on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th.

The principal, Mr. Golton, pointed out what a great force for good in the school and in the community a strong Parent Teachers' organization could be. He mentioned some of the things which the parents and teachers could accomplish as an organization, which they can not as individuals for the benefit of the young people of the valley. All those present were urged to ask other parents in their neighborhood to come to the next meeting.

The Honor Society recently formed in the high school was explained. It is not a local but a state wide movement. Its purpose is to stimulate a greater activity in the school and community affairs, to develop character, and to encourage efforts in scholastic attainment. This covers the three aims of the school: 1. to give information, 2. to develop initiative, courage and leadership in civic and 3. to make better men and women with high standards of conduct and high ideals of life.

Mr. Golton also spoke of the attempts being made to start an orchestra in the school and of the need of the school for a larger library of good books. Love of reading and music must be fostered in young people.

The difficulty of conducting the work of the school with the present lack of room in which to work and lack of equipment was also touched upon.

The Social Investigating Committee is studying the recreations of the high school and preparing a set of recommendations as to the kind and number of the social functions of the school and the manner in which they shall be conducted. The whole subject of recreation for high school boys and girls was gone into pretty thoroughly. Efforts to improve the recreational side of school life is one of the newer aims of school in response to the recognition of the need of young people for much harmless recreation. Playing hard is a necessary concomitant of working hard.

All these and many more matters of interest to parents were spoken of.

After the discussion, those present went over to the Domestic Science Building for a social hour and some sandwiches and chocolate prepared by the faculty.

Mrs. Kennell's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Evans, has a little baby girl born last Friday in Santa Rosa. The little stranger is to be called Elizabeth Jane. Mr. and Mrs. Evans have a host of friends who will rejoice with them in their happiness.

A LITTLE REMINDER

Do your Xmas shopping early.
And shop in Sonoma.
First of all read the ads,
In the Index and take advantage
Of all the tips and bargains and
Information there.
Then put your check book and all
Your "kale"
Or credentials aboard
And start out.
We warrant you will find everything
You want
Right in town here
Right in price, quality and variety
Everything except possibly the nogg
For your egg nogg,
But you are supposed to have that
Stored away
High up on the shelf or deep
Down in the cellarette
And those who haven't
Will never miss it
But getting back to real Xmas gifts
Shop early do not wait until
The last mad days
And then rush up town
And expect to find oodles of Everything you planned on.
Buy that umbrella right now,
Before umbrellas go up
Select that silk shirt before the silk worms go on a strike,
Order that talking machine
And keep harmony in the family,
Write your check for that Xmas auto and let joy riding be unconfined,
Pick out that artistic picture
Your wife won't mind at all,
If you frame up something like that.

THE JURY KNEW

Theodore Paxinos said it was unfermented grape juice.

Assistant United States Attorney Wilford Tully said it was wine.

The case went to a jury which agreed with Paxinos, who conducts a poolroom, and acquitted him.

Paxinos was charged with violating the war-time prohibition law.
